BORAH MAY MAKE SLUSH-FUND STATEMENT
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—A pre-election statement by the Senatorial committee on its findings thus far in the campaign slush-fund inquiry loomed as a possibility today when Senator William E. Borah, Republican, Idaho, chairman of the committee, announced his intention to urge the members together tomorrow for that purpose.

Senator Borah would be leaving Chicago, announced such a statement, "but he would be here when he returned to Washington, but when he arrived here he found that Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, acting chairman of the committee on the committee sitting here, had left for a political speech-making tour in Virginia."

LA FOLLETTE SENDS LETTER.

Senator Borah then stated a preliminary report appeared to be an impossibility, because of his inability to sound out the opinions of the other members of the committee. At that point, Mr. Walsh, La Follette's counsel, has taken advantage of the situation to get his own interpretation of the report.

Dawes Smokes Pipe and Waits

At the Veto Count

(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE)
EVANSTON (Ill.) Nov. 2.—Charles C. Dawes smoked his pipe calmly today in the quiet library of his North Shore home in Evanston.

The Republican nominee for Vice-President early today completed his final campaign tour; he was in Evanston on his way to Los Angeles.

W. R. Yip, secretary for the organization in Southern California, said the society has a membership of 20,000, of which 1100 are registered voters in the city of Los Angeles. Dr. R. N. Smith, president of the society, said that the organization has held 100 meetings have been held in the city throughout the campaign of the discussion of politics, and at the last regular meeting held at State headquarters of the society in San Francisco.

would have no pre-election statements to make; he let it be known, however, that he had no desire to participate in any further political conferences, and he said he wanted to enjoy today and tomorrow "relaxing and doing a little thing for his family and with his books."

Until Tuesday, he told his friends, he was "a political animal." Then he and Mrs. Dawes will go to the polling place, the First Precinct, at the First Ward in Evanston and cast their votes.

The candidates for the city council were unanimously approved by a series of meetings, which were held under the auspices of the organization, and tomorrow afternoon workers will canvass door-to-door in the city, in order to get out every registered voter that district.

They're "Stopping the Show"

SINCE opening-hour Saturday, spaces 44-A, Tent No. 4, at the Automobile Show, have been magnet-points for visitors.

In other words—those of an enthusiastic bystander—"Studebakers are stopping the Show!"

First, there are the Duplex Phaetons. You will see these and wonder why someone hasn't conceived the idea before. One moment, an open car—then, with a single motion of one's arm on either side, a perfect sedan.

The change takes less than 30 seconds.

This marks the passing of "the old buggy top"—an unchanged tradition in the motor car world since automobiles were first built with whip-sockets in the dashboards.

Then, there are the closed Studebakers—a royal line of them. These models are new phases of motor luxury—with interiors that one cannot look upon without aching to occupy.

There isn't a model in the line that doesn't justify the unstinted praise of the well known K.C.B. who writes:

"... I thought you had lost a customer, because my present Studebaker will apparently last forever. But, in the new car, you have brought to a land of beautiful things, something that truly belongs. It doesn't seem possible to produce a better automobile regardless of price. Certainly I have never seen one more beautiful. I thank you."

Finally, you can possess one of the new Studebakers for as little as $1385, delivered here. Or, if you prefer, you can pay $3250 for one of the Big-Six seven-passenger Berlins—the super-cars of their line.

In either case, your motor car investment will be the kind that Los Angeles' shrewdest business men make year after year. Men who consider tomorrow's resale value as well as today's service yield.

PACT MAY HURT RAISIN INDUSTRY

Canada - Australia Treaty
Waits Ratification
United States Canned Salmon
Trade Involved

Reciprocal Duties Cut by Two Dominions

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The dried raisin and canned salmon industries in the United States probably will be adversely affected by the reciprocal trade agreement recently concluded but not yet ratified, between Canada and Australia, according to a statement issued by Samuel Lebow of the foodstuffs division of the Department of Commerce.

Under the agreement Canada will admit Australia's raisins and currants free, while the general duty on these commodities is advanced from two-thirds of a cent to 3 cents a pound. In return, Australia grants Canada material reductions in other commodities, including canned salmon.

The importance of this to the American canned salmon industry may easily be realized when it is noted that the United States raises Australia as her third heaviest export in this commodity. In 1923 the United States shipped 4,142,145 pounds of salmon to Australia while Canada sent only 5,731,490 pounds.

RESULT IN DOUBT

The treaty leaves the general duty on salmon at 2-1/2 a pound but admits Canadian salmon at 16 a pound.

"It is highly problematical as to what extent Canada will cut into the American share in the Australian canned salmon trade," Mr. Lebow states. "With conservation measures in effect curtailing our production of the better grades of salmon, of which Australia is a large consumer, and with the handicap of a duty 1/2 a pound in excess of that paid by Canada, a drop in our business with Australia may be expected. Serious inroads can be prevented by meeting Canadian prices and Canada's more liberal credit terms."

Heretofore 30 per cent of Canada's raisins imported here have come from the United States.

"Australia's share in the trade has been a very small one," Mr. Lebow says. "That country never has successfully cultivated and developed the Canadian market for raisins and currants, but has depended almost entirely upon the United Kingdom and New Zealand. With the new trade agreement in operation it is reasonable to suppose Australia will make every effort to push her advantage."

"Australia's entire production of raisins—using the rather high estimate of 47,000,000 pounds for the 1924 crop—will be cut into excess of Canada's yearly consumption of 39,000,000 pounds. Even if her actual exports were to amount to 20 per cent of her pack—and heretofore they have been about 30 per cent—and all were shipped to Canada, they would still fall far short of supplying Canada's raisin needs."

"In the case of raisins, the United States may offset the advantage given to Australia and overcome the handicap of lower prices offered by that country by competing on a purely quality basis. In a market like Canada's, where price is not the determining factor, quality competition may enable us to hold our own."

The trolleyman, however, did not heed the signals and the trolley crashed into the freight train.

Olson, the conductor, said he saw the trolleyman raise the gates and ran to the crossing. He looked in both directions, he stated, but did not see the approaching train and signaled the trolleyman to proceed.

SHIP SAILS WITHOUT SAILS

Action of Wind on Mast Towers Propels Schooner;
Invention to Cut Shipping Costs Third

BERLIN, Nov. 3.—Men have gone down to sea in ships for 100 centuries, which have seen galleys and Phoenician sails and American seven-riggers succeeded by Leviathans and Zeppelins, but what is heralded as the greatest invention of all, one which will revolutionize ocean traffic, is now announced: A sailing ship without sails, operated by the action of the winds on the masts.

The turrets are higher than a house and nine feet in diameter. One man can run a ship, replacing the crew of a sailing ship. The invention is the work of Anton Flettner of Amsterdam, a perfect success. An old ship was rebuilt and the masts were converted into towers. These towers were specially built for fast speed after many years of study of aerodynamics at Goettingen University.

The revolutionizing sailing ship is considered here as the biggest contribution to freight traffic for 1000 years. It is expected to revolutionize coastal traffic and inland water traffic, and to be usable for Atlantic hauls, although it never will approach steam speed.

CREW OF ONE MAN
"I knew nothing about the ship's success until held by the press tonight," said Flettner. "My invention belongs to the Hamburg-American line. It is a ship of 1000 tons, which took my plans and rebuilt a schooner for a test. My invention consists of hollow, cylindrical towers, under which small motors are used for starting the ship in motion. The towers are so constructed that once started the wind rotates them and the ship gains momentum."

TRUANTS' PARENTS JAILED

New York Court Sends Ten Fathers and One Mother to Cells for School Law Violation

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—It was a great day for the cause of education in the Municipal Term Court, where Magistrate Simpson heard more than 100 truancy cases. At the end of a perfect session ten fathers, handcuffed in pairs, were carted off to jail for one or two days, in default of fines, and one mother likewise sent to prison.

Mrs. Marie Terta, 333 East One Hundred and Eighth street, was the mother who had to pass a day in jail because her offspring had not attended school.

In the long grind the magistrate found the champion long-distance truant of the town in the person of Mary Calderone, 19 years of age, of 468 East Eleventh street. She had been A.W.O.L. for ten years and had never seen the inside of a schoolhouse. She came to this country ten years ago. The father, a Polish immigrant, school officers had asked for her at the house they had been told that no such girl lived there. A recent State census betrayed the school dodger.

Miss Delina Costa, 19 years of age, of 485 Park avenue, had been making $30 a week in an embroidery shop. Miss Costa was defiant.

"I don't want to be a college professor," she said. "I make more than some of them anyway." The magistrate persuaded her to add some night school English to her fundamental ability.

The Major-General called Mayor Harvey C. Kistler, prosecutor H. A. Burgess, and Sheriff H. J. Thomas before himself and Col. L. B. Connelly, director commander of the troops, and asked the three officials bluntly what they intended to do.

They replied that they were in full co-operation with Maj.-Gen. Hough in the military investigation and would do everything in their power to help his responsibility.

Withdrawal of troops will begin late tonight or early tomorrow, unless something unforeseen occurs. Gen. Hough declared early this evening.

The first to leave will be the Cleveland units of about 216 men. Other detachments will follow as conditions warrant and nearly all will be at their homes Tuesday in time to vote, the generals said. Mayor Kistler said tonight that he would issue a statement from military headquarters tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock which would not indicate what the contents of the statement would be.

Scotland Yard

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Scotland Yard is on the lookout for an organized gang of American oil crooks, which has just reached England in search of a fresh supply of easy marks. Although the men landed less than a week ago, they have wasted no time in getting busy. More than $8000 in bogus oil stocks has been disposed of already, it is being warned.

The United States crooks are believed to compose a band of more than 100 members, including a number of men who have come on, expert gypsies, and flat catchers, all under an unknown leader.

The city police here declare the London police has always fallen heavily when offered get-rich-quick schemes, and it is believed the crooks will find a good deal of trouble in rounding up the American crowd, since the crooks would be so well posted on British law that they will manage to keep just within it.

Frank Lockhart got married

enced almost immediately. Frank, who is known to racing fans as "boy wonder," stepped into the matrimonial harness and yesterday encountered a lot of tough riding in his performance on the Santa Anita track. The newlywed drove in two races and swayed a lot of dust in both, taking second to Ralph Ormsby in the Santa Anita Handicap, and being third to Chance Kingsley and Ormsby in the Walter Johnson Handicap. The second race is to be hoped that Frank's up of matrimony is running in smoother waters.

The eastern drivers imported by mail made their debut to a crowd of approximately 12,000 and gave a fine display for their money. Cursed by rain at Watters, Kingsley divided honors for a day with Jack Petticoat, the local champion, who was back in the harness after a short lay-off. Ormsby and Walters drove a much speed and considerable much to the chagrin of the local pilots and will continue to do things interesting for the spectators, as long as they show as well as they did yesterday.

LOCKHART OUT
Lockhart had engine trouble in the Santa Anita Handicap, and was forced out of the race. He was replaced by Chance Kingsley, who won the race. The race was a close one, with Kingsley leading Walters and Ormsby.

WELL, IT'S ALL OVER BUT THE SHOUTING—THE OLD GUMP STEAM ROLLER CERTAINLY MADE A LOT OF FAVORITE SONS LOOK LIKE STEP-CHILDREN—ELEPHANTS AND DONKEYS AND BOBCATS ARE FAST ENOUGH BUT WHEN THEY START TO RACE A FLYING AMERICAN EAGLE THEY HAVE AS MUCH CHANCE AS A PIG ON ROLLER SKATES TRYING TO BEAT A SAND STORM ACROSS THE DESERT OF SAHARA—

I'LL JUST TAKE A LITTLE TASTE OF NECTAR IN HONOR OF OUR NEXT PRESIDENT—I MADE THE GOOD FIGHT AND WON—I KNOW NOW HOW GOOD A DERBY WINNER FEELS WHEN THE FLORAL HORSE SHOE IS SLIPPED OVER HIS HEAD—A LOT OF WISE BIRDS WHO WERE BROADCASTING THE NEWS THAT I DIDN'T HAVE A CHANCE WILL HAVE A CHANCE TO SEE THEIR MISTAKE EVERY TIME THEY SEE MY LIKENESS ENGRAVED ON A TWO-CENT STAMP—

I CAN HARDLY WAIT FOR THE RETURNS TO COME IN TOMORROW NIGHT—I'LL JUST SIT AT THE RADIO AND HEAR THAT "GUMP CARRIES NEW ENGLAND—OPPOSES CONCEDE NEW YORK TO GUMP—OLD PARTIES DEMORALIZED BY GUMP LANDSLIDE—" "CHEERING CROWDS SURROUND THE OLD GUMP HOME-STEAD—" "PRESIDENT-ELECT GUMP CONGRATULATES VOTERS AND PROMISES PEOPLE THE GREATEST ERA OF PROSPERITY THE WORLD HAS EVER KNOWN SINCE NOAH SAW THE DOW COMING BACK—

Robberies Staged; Man is Killed by Assaults

The bandits were not confined to the Hollywood district, but also occurred in other sections.

Through the police were furnished with descriptions of the men and their machines, the officers were kept busy for twenty-four hours on the highways.

Before the police could get a hold-up had been reported in the Hollywood district.

TAKE CALIFORNIA OUT OF THE "DOUBTFUL COLUMN"

Unbiased observers of the Presidential campaign in the nation list California among the States whose choice for President as between Coolidge, Davis and La Follette is thus far so undecided as to appear doubtful.

California is considered "doubtful" despite the fact that in a nation-wide poll by the Literary Digest the returns from a relatively small percentage of the voters of this State give Coolidge a lead of approximately 11,000 over La Follette and show the strength of Davis to be negligible.

California has been listed as "doubtful" by those who are wholly uninfluenced by partisan predictions. This uncertainty arises from other causes.

The fact is, polls, straw ballots and careful surveys of the political situation in California at the present time indicate victory for Coolidge and Davies, but because this State in the past has not followed a consistent political principle, because election results have been determined by a minority of those eligible to vote, some observers believe there is a reasonable doubt as to the action of California this year.

California remains in the "doubtful column" because of past performance rather than of present conditions.

More than 1,882,000 California men and women are eligible to express a choice in tomorrow's election. In Los Angeles county the eligible voters exceed 656,000. Nearly fifty per cent of all the registered voters of the State are located south of the Tehachapi.

If Northern California should give La Follette a majority, Southern California still could assure an overwhelming victory for the Republican nominees.

Registration in State and county is the greatest in history; and every consideration of public need and personal interest would seem to emphasize the desirability of a maximum vote.

The Presidential contest is so fraught with possibilities of good or ill for the nation generally and for California particularly as to justify in itself a full and comprehensive expression by the people.

In addition to the Presidential office there are many offices to be filled, including the judiciary, Congress and the State Legislature.

Proposed new laws and amendments to existing laws vitally affecting the well-being of the people have been submitted. A majority of the votes cast in most of these issues will decide.

The polls will be open tomorrow morning at 6 o'clock and will remain open until 7 p.m.

During those thirteen hours the voters of California will have within their grasp an opportunity to serve themselves, the State and the nation. The time for partisan appeal has passed. This final expression is made as a reminder of tomorrow's significance and of tomorrow's possibilities.

California has a chance to remove itself for all time from the undesirable and unimpressive category in which it has been placed, but such a result can only be accomplished if each individual voter determines to go to the polls and finds occasion to carry that determination into effect.

Lightning Divorce Given to ex-Chief, Say Dispatches

Wife Named Dancer in Recent Suit Filed Here

Mrs. Jennings Says She Will Fight Husband's Decree

For the second time in three days dispatches last night from Yucatan related news of a lightning divorce obtained by a well-known Angeleno.

The recipient of the new brand of quick decrees in the instance was Louis D. Oaks, former Chief of Police, according to a cablegram. Several days ago, a Yucatan dispatch carried notice of a divorce being awarded Robert P. Jennings, sales manager of a large Los Angeles real estate concern.

The ease and celerity with which marital severance papers are obtainable in the Mexican State make a situation possible wherein a woman's husband may leave quite plausibly on a business trip and return with a new wife without wife No. 1 having any previous inkling of the change in her status.

WIFE NAMED DANCER

A cablegram received last night stated that Oaks, who was one of the veterans of the police department and rose to the position of Chief, arrived at Merida, Yucatan, September 5, last. He registered at the Colon Hotel, obtained his divorce, and went to Vera Cruz on October 21. He was seen in company on several occasions with a woman who arrived there under the name of Helen I. Ambert, it was stated.

In a divorce complaint filed August 12, last, Mrs. Josie M. Oaks charged that Oaks had been living with Catherine Uribe, the dancer, who got "Little Phil" Alguin, the slayer of Detective Sergeant Fitzgibbon, to take Oaks to the divorce court. The dancer's stratagem enabled Oaks to take "Little Phil" into custody and in return for his efforts, her husband was released from jail in Los Angeles.

The validity of the Yucatan divorce decree in California has not been passed upon by any court agency from the Superior Court to the Supreme Court, nor has the District Attorney's office ventured any definite stand in the matter.

In this connection, Mrs. Nettie O. Jennings, whose husband is reported to have been awarded a divorce in Yucatan last week, announced she will consult with the district attorney today with a view to questioning the validity of the decree if there are legal means to do so.

Mrs. Jennings was not aware of the divorce obtained by her husband until she heard of it through press dispatches.

"I understand that one can get a divorce in Yucatan after thirty days' residence," she said, "and this without serving notice on the wife or husband. It appears to me as a great injustice, particularly in my case, when I married I had about $148,000. I established my husband in business time after time, and successive failures lost me my money, my diamonds and even furs. I am left practically stranded."

Jennings was named in a divorce complaint filed by Frank O. Wells, son of Judge Wells, an Arizona millionaire. He charged that Jennings came into his home as a boarder and usurped the affections of Mrs. Wells. The divorce was granted May 17, 1923.

THIRSTY AFRICA SEEKS HATFIELD

Oil Company in Tunis Asks Hanford Chamber of Commerce for Low Down on Ability of Glendale Medicine Man of Clouds to Bring Celestial Perspiration to Sahara

The fame of Charles Hatfield of Glendale, the noted California rain manufacturer, has spread as on the wings of morn' to Africa's oasis-spangled lands.

Between March 15 and April 16, last, Mr. Hatfield with his rain-producing mechanism, brought down the clouds of celestial perspiration to that part of Kings county inhabited by the farmers who forked up the said rain.

And yesterday a dispatch from Hanford, the Kings County Chamber of Commerce got a letter from the Franco-Tunis Oil Company of Stax, Tunis, French West Africa, asking whether the report of the Kings county deluge as the exclusive production of Mr. Hatfield were true and otherwise creditable.

FLOOD COUNTRY

Mr. Hatfield is already famous in Italy, where macaroni farmers once employed him, and where the rain he brought flooded all the roads to Rome and caused his export from the country; famous in Ohio, where he once assisted nature profitably; in Canada where he has been instrumental in saving the natives from starvation this winter; in several countries of California, where his rain medicine has found a worthy household remedy, and also in his own home town of Glendale, where Mr. Hatfield, who is engaged abroad, spends his time watering the lawn.

The letter from the Franco-Tunis Oil Company, which it is assumed produces olive oil, was written in French, and after a French pastry cook in the hotel at Hanford had translated it, the translation shook the community.

For the rain-makers district headed by W. H. Elliott of Tulare Lake have bespoken the rain-maker's services, this coming spring, in case of course it does not rain anyway, and it is feared that the new offer may cause Mr. Hatfield to move the rainclouds from over Kings county across the Pacific, through the Suez Canal, to a point over French West Africa.

TELL ALL

The letter from the African company asked the Chamber of Commerce of Hanford about the creditability of the report of Mr. Hatfield's late rain-producing feat in Kings county, repeating in French at great length the report as sent by press telegraph from Los Angeles to New York, thence by cable to London, thence by cable to Paris, thence by telegraph to Tunis, then translated into French, and sent by mail, in Le Petit Journal, to French West Africa.

The news came back almost exactly as it went, says B. B. Price, secretary of the Hanford Chamber of Commerce, and he will verify the facts in the case and send the French persons in Africa the names of reputable Kings county farmers who can make affidavit that they got so much rain for so much money.

RAINY HISTORY

For the benefit of newcomers to California, it may be stated that Mr. Hatfield for years has manufactured rain in dry spells, employing a system of his own made possible through a tower into which he climbs with a stepladder and on which he deposits some chemicals of a magic nature. In the meantime a sum of money has been deposited in the nearest bank to be paid Mr. Hatfield when he has succeeded in making it rain.

On one occasion years back, it is related with ample documentary proofs one farmer refused to be party to the affair, being both a farmer and a scientist, and on all four sides of his, even up to the limit fences, but not a drop of water fell onto the land of the nonconformist farmer.

Corner Nance was informed of the death and delayed assigning an undertaker to take charge of the body on the request of the parents that they be allowed to keep it in the home until today.

Loyalty and perseverance accomplish marvels. Last evening we had an example of this truth in the concert presented by the Baxter Northrup Music Company. This company stands as an authority on wood wind instruments. With far-reaching vision, Harry Baxter, himself a flutist, and the other heads of the company have realized that before there would be a large demand for wood wind instruments, people must grow to know and love them.

Eight years ago the Los Angeles Flute Club was formed and it has grown to be one of the foremost organizations of its kind in the country. Its programs are looked forward to as rare musical treats by rich and poor alike and almost every combination of wood instrument available has found a place in its repertoire.

Before telling you of last night's beautiful program, I must emphasize to all my radio family the importance of attending, if possible, the eighth anniversary concert of the Los Angeles Flute Club which will take place on the 11th inst. in the First Methodist Episcopal Church, and which will be broadcast through K.H.J.

In my humble musical opinion this will be one of the outstanding events of the season. Not only will the winds be used alone, but Modest Atschuler, the famous Russian conductor, will direct a chorus of 100 voices, accompanied by nine soprano flutes, two alto flutes in G, two harps and tuba. A beautiful feature of this music feast for the people is the fact that every one is giving his services absolutely free. We will remind you of this event from time to time, that we may all share a common memory of some wonderful hours.

Last evening the program was arranged by Carroll Cambern and presented a wood wind sextet consisting of Harry Baxter, first flute; Carroll Cambern, second flute; Philip Memoli, Jr., oboe; Achille Heynen, bassoon; Antonio Raimondi, first clarinet; and G. Northrup, second clarinet. As assisting artist, the sextet had Lucille Gibbs, soprano.

Every member of the sextet is a thorough artist. In Reinhold's "Shepherd Boy" the plaintive tone color of the oboe was ably demonstrated by Mr. Memoli. Probably no one has done more on the Coast to introduce the flute repertoire than Harry Baxter, and last night, accompanied by his wife, who is an accomplished musician herself, Mr. Baxter played the solo, Brice's "Song of the Wind". The program was conceived to represent all the unusual tonal combinations possible to arouse the interest of those who did not realize the wealth of beauty dwelling in the slender reeds and pipes of our modern orchestra.

An interesting number was a hammond solo and in the hands of Mr. Heynen the Adagio from Von Weber's Concerto was a thing of deep and moving beauty. This was the radio debut of Mr. Raimondi, first clarinet, and two of the numbers presented on the program were given by Mr. Raimondi while studying with the great clarinetist, Magnani, at the Conservatory of Milan.

REFLECTS CREDIT
Lucille Gibbs is a soprano who reflects great credit on her city. As most of our family know, to Miss Gibbs was given the honor of being the only singer with Anna Pavlova at her last appearance at the Metropolitan Opera-house in New York. She also scored a fine success with the Los Angeles Opera Company several weeks ago. Last night she sang Proch's "Theme and Variations," with flute accompaniment by Harry Baxter. This is one of the most difficult of the old-school coloratura airs and Miss Gibbs had absolute command of a great coloratura's technique. While the tone quality is not heavy, it has a resonance to it not usually associated with such a flexible voice.

The entire evening was a concert which I am sure made every one grateful to K.H.J. and the high ideals to which the Baxter and Northrup Music Company have steadfastly adhered.

The repairing and resurfacing of Sunset Boulevard is now well under way. City Engineer Van Norman has reported to the City Council, and has asked that in order to complete the work through the Hollywood district, four additional five-ton trucks be rented to haul asphalt to the boulevard from the asphalt plant.

TRUCK KILLS BOY CYCLIST

Three Angelenos Badly Injured in Two Other Traffic Accidents in Santa Monica District

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 2.—One boy is dead and a man and a woman are suffering from serious injuries as a result of two traffic accidents here today.

Kenneth Rogers, 14 years of age, 3719 Washington boulevard, Ocean Park, died in St. Catherine Hospital this morning from injuries received when he fell from a bicycle beneath the rear wheels of a heavy truck near his home.

The truck was driven by a man, Brooks, 1705 South Alma street, Los Angeles Harbor. According to a report to police, Brooks did not know the boy was hanging onto the heavy automobile. He is not being held.

Passing motorists rushed the injured lad to the hospital but he did not regain consciousness. The body was removed to the O. A. Kirkle mortuary. Date of inquest will be set tomorrow by County Coroner Nance.

E. J. Ward, 1162 Poinsettia place, Los Angeles, suffered a fractured skull and Helen Williams, 4243 1-2 El Centro street, received a broken right leg and severe head lacerations when the automobile in which they were riding plunged from a small bridge on the Coast highway near Old Inceville early this morning.

Ward and his companion were proceeding toward this city when the accident occurred. The cause is believed to have been defective steering apparatus. Both were thrown clear of the automobile, according to police who investigated. Ward was immediately rendered unconscious but the screams of the girl attracted an unidentified motorist, who brought them to the hospital. Ward has failed to regain consciousness and is in a critical condition.

The girl, according to police, could give only a vague account of how the accident occurred.

law went into effect in April, 1923, and has been applicable to Americans since the United States recognized Mexico. The most liberal divorce laws in the United States are found in Nevada, where only a six-months' residence is required. In Yucatan, a month's residence is necessary, and the court action is prompt and many causes are admissible.

Former Chief Oaks, reported as the latest to take advantage of the Yucatan divorce proposition, has an application for a police pension pending before the Civil Service Commission. Before the application is passed on it is necessary for the applicant to submit to a medical examination and efforts have been made for several weeks, unsuccessfully, to ascertain Oaks' whereabouts and communicate with him.

Final preparations were being completed yesterday by officials of the Edgewater Club for the first general get-together and high links of club members at the Green Mill Thursday evening. The banquet and high links will mark the successful termination of the club's membership drive.

A large number of entertainers will appear at the Green Mill for the occasion and a special radio program will be broadcast and picked up at the Mill for the occasion of the event. The feature of the evening will be the appearance of Harry Carroll's "Pickin'."

Wife Says Mate is Champion Washing Solicitor of World
But Asserts His Only Sympathy at Overwork is
"Go Ahead. Don't Complain. Get Busy"

Maybe George's misbirth Little was not so strong at supporting a family, but he certainly could solicit a mean washing, according to the divorce complaint of Mrs. Elsie Louise Little, on file in the County Clerk's office.

As a seeker of persons with need for a wife to do a little laundry work for them, Little was without a peer, from the story told in the newspaper to the man who leaped to the pinnacle of success in one spring, but after he got started to win fast, the complaint registered.

At first he only brought home about one washing a day for her to do, but later he began to bring in the washing-collecting game by her tail, and he eventually brought her so many that she was overwhelmed by the rush of business, and it ended up by driving her mad from overwork, Mrs. Little related.

And he was a cheery solicitor who would not be discouraged or discouraged about her. When a woman would complain a little about the laundry, he would tell her that he would brighten things up with the following inspiring remarks:

"Go ahead. Get to work. Don't complain. Get busy."

Mrs. Little reported that she was not a strong woman and that she would therefore be appreciated by the court would award her a divorce from her demon-soldier husband.

CHEST REPORT DUE TODAY

Directors' Meeting Called; Division Conferences Set for Week Preceding Drive Next Monday

Directors of the Los Angeles Community Chest will meet at noon today at campaign headquarters to hear a full report of progress incident to the united fund appeal to be opened one week hence to raise $1,000,000.

Final divisional meetings are scheduled for this week at which campaign supplies will be issued to the individual workers. A rallying point will be selected by each division colonel. Workers of that division will meet at this rallying

They are being asked to impress upon the public the fact that this can be avoided by the use of better food products for the food sold in the ballroom of the Biltmore on the 5th inst., by the Commercial Board of Los Angeles.

The exhibit has attracted dethe public the fact that this one charitable appeal will do away with any individual solicitations on the part of the 125 Chest institutions—that these institutions are making their very existence upon the response made to this one moderated campaign. Thousands of persons—crippled children, destitute aged, growing boys and girls—are being served by the 125 institutions of the Community Chest. Their fate is linked with that of

Believe Score Lost Lives in Oregon Coast Wreck

Lumber Schooner on Rocks—Twenty-two men aboard the steam schooner "Acme" may have lost their lives, according to reports from Brandon, Or., when the vessel was driven on the rocks during a gale Friday night. The "Acme" carried no wireless, which made substantiation of the report impossible. (P. & A. photo.)

Laughs at Menken Charges—Despite the charges of S. Stanwood Menken, president of the National Security League, that she is known as "Red Catherine" in Hungary, Countess Catherine Karolyi, wife of the former President of Hungary, is being entertained by New York's "best." (P. & A. photo.)

Chamber Excursionists Home—Among those who arrived from Honolulu Saturday on the S.S. City of Los Angeles, which carried the Chamber of Commerce excursionists to Hawaii and return were, left to right, Mrs. Charles P. Metcalf, Katherine Metcalf, Katherine Lipke, L. Edna Hatcher, Lillian Sack and Ed Crockett.

Variation of the Triangles—When Harry Holmes, Jr., married Florence Ashton (above) last week, the vaudeville team of Holmes and LeVere, composed of Holmes, his bride and his former wife, from whom he was divorced six months ago, was not disrupted. (P. & A. photo.)

Play Return Engagement—The Times Junior Players staged a return engagement Saturday before the crippled kiddies at the Orthopedic Hospital at 2400 South Flower. The unfortunate little inmates of the hospital were carried in cots and stretchers onto the lawn where the talented youngsters in Aunt Dolly's troupe performed on a specially erected platform. Above are four of the little entertainers who took part, from left to right, Jacqueline Barton, "Juju" Pelly, Billy Jane Webb and Hazen Bee.

Well Versed on Divorce Form—The professional manner in which Mrs. Ernestine Fertic went through the form of getting a divorce in Chicago recently, piqued the curiosity of the judge. He questioned her and was informed that it was her 1001st experience. She got her experience in the play "Lightning." (P. & A. photo.)

Siamese Prince Prajapada—Prince Prajapada of Siam, arrived in San Francisco on Saturday from Bangkok, where he was home to Bangkok French school. (P. & A. photo.)

A Photo for Posterity—This photo is probably the only one of its kind in existence. It shows Babe Ruth hitting a home run off Walter Johnson at Brea Bowl Friday. Walter and Babe face each other on numerous occasions during the season, but it is doubtful if the psychological moment has ever before been recorded by a camera. (P. & A. photo.)

She Pays Husband Alimony—Mrs. Hortense Meiser of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, by a court decree is paying her husband alimony. The court granted $200 alimony, $300 attorneys fees, $350 for hospital and doctor bills and $168 court costs. She supports three children, too. (Wide World photo.)

Emancipator and His Cabinet—History records that Lincoln's cabinet, the nucleus of which was unsatisfactory to both political parties, attempted to overthrow the government from the Emancipator, only to discover the master was Lincoln. Above photograph is from the film play showing at the Grand Theater.

STUDENTS' RUM PARTY IS RAIDED
Boys and Girls in Revel After Bear Victory Are Cited by Agents

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—Hundreds of hilarious young men and beautiful, fashionably-dressed girls, balled their glasses half way to their lips as Federal prohibition agents descended suddenly upon Tait's-at-the-Beach early today and broke up a drinking celebration of California's football victory over the University of Southern California.

The contents of those glasses and of numerous bottles at each table drew a veritable bombardment of citations from the officers before the revelers were charged with violating the Volstead Act.

The collegians took the raid in the best of good humor. They hastily formed a cheering section and, stirred by enthusiastic leaders, "rooted" loudly and boisterously before the prohibitionists.

The raiding party was led by A. R. Shurtliff, who said that many citations were given for the violation of the law. He said that the party was a "rum party" and that the students were "drinking."

Hot Legal Fight Expected
Millionaire ex-Judge Will Defend Dynamiter in Labor War Trial

ATTORNEY-GENERAL TO AID PROSECUTION; DARROW MAY BE ON DEFENSE SIDE
INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) Nov. 2.—The legal fight to free John J. McNamara, business agent for the Bridge and Structural Ironworkers' Union here, and confessed dynamiter, arrested here October 8 on four indictments resulting from a strike investigation of two years of labor war in this city, is to begin tomorrow.

That there will be a fight there is no doubt. Charles E. Cox, former judge of the State Supreme Court, and a millionaire, is to defend the labor agent. He is also a prominent member of the Indianapolis Bar.

TO AID PROSECUTION
While no provision is made for it in the budget of the Attorney-General, U. S. Lesh, present Attorney-General, says he is going to aid prosecuting Attorney William R. Remy, who worked with Remy when the evidence was being presented before the grand jury.

RETALIATION FEARED
After the arrest, retaliation by union ironworkers, was threatened and feared and the building industry was held in a reign of terror, almost as bad as that which McNamara was choking contractors before his arrest.

TO NAME JUDGE
The Indiana law, however, places it in the hands of Judge Collins to name the trial judge. Collins will name five judges for the trial. The defense strikes out two and the State discards two.

DAVIS'S STAND HURTING CAUSE IN SOLID SOUTH; ISSUES OF LA FOLLETTE FAIL

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING
CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Prosperity, present and prospective, bids fair to sweep Calvin Coolidge into the next term of office in the Presidency on an irresistible avalanche of votes.

Additional dispatches received tonight from correspondents in Pittsburgh, Pa., and elsewhere, evidence of the shrinking of the La Follette and Davis strength on the eve of the plebiscite which will determine whether returning prosperity is to increase or to suffer a check.

These last-minute surveys from New England, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana indicate that the great swing to Davis in the last week of the campaign upon which Democratic National Chairman Shaver was relying for victory has failed to materialize.

FLYING SQUADS OF MILITIAMEN IN ARMORED MACHINES PATROL STREETS

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
NILES (O.) Nov. 2.—Sixteen were under arrest tonight as civil and military authorities swept into the difficult investigation of the chaotic rioting that took a toll of nine wounded when Knights of the Flaming Cross met Knights of the Flaming Cross in a gun battle yesterday.

Order has been restored. The town is virtually an armed camp. Flying squads of militiamen roam through the streets in armored cars and it is practically assured there will be no further outbreak or bloodshed while the soldiers are here.

But when the militia goes—that is another story; all admit that. Maj.-Gen. Benson W. Hough's military investigation of the bitter fighting was launched today with all of the force of the 100th National Guardmen at his command.

It is admitted that it ought to bring some results, for the general knows how to obtain evidence. He was formerly a justice of the peace, Court of Ohio and he is now District Attorney for the southern district of the State.

GIRL'S LOVE IS BLIND TO LAWS

Runs Away With Man Father of Three Children

Jailed in Denver, She Still Refuses to be Sorry

Pair Admit Bigamous Union and Illicit Amours

DENVER, Nov. 2.—Consuming love for a married man, the father of three children, blinded the 23-year-old daughter of a well-to-do Kansas farmer to the rules of society and the law on bigamy, and she became the bride of B. F. Culp, 32 years of age, without waiting for the slow-moving machinery of a court to sever the ties which bound the man to another woman, according to her story to the Denver police.

The girl, known as Mabel Culp, small and pretty, was arrested with Culp in a rooming-house at 1557 Larimer street early by Detectives Wilson and Jones of the Denver police department and special agent of the Federal Department of Justice. They are held in the Denver City Jail for investigation.

HELD IN JAIL

"We were in love, and we married—that's all there is to our story," Culp and the girl are said to have told the police.

"Several months ago I left my family in Ashur, Okla., and went down into Kansas to seek employment," Culp said. "I found work on the ranch of the father of the girl and I fell in love with her. We decided to be married and we went to Great Bend, Kan., and had a clergyman tie the knot on August 15.

"Since then we have been dodging about the country, living as man and wife. I told the girl I was married and the father of three children before I married her, and she said it didn't make any difference."

LOVE IS SUPREME

"I loved Mr. Culp," she said. "It didn't make any difference to me if he was married and the father of three children. I don't think we have done any wrong by marrying, because we loved each other."

The couple, according to the police, will be held pending filing of charges by the Federal authorities.

RADIO PROGRESS IN OTHER LANDS

Animal Concert London's Plan; Talk New Station

French Orient Stations Now Reach Asia Minor

Danish Government Adverse to Private Sets

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Animals in London will soon be having their voices tested to find out which carry the best via wireless. A big animal concert is scheduled for November 14. The principal performers probably will be lions, elephants, parrots and "old Bill," while the rattlesnake also will have his or her rattle sent out on the air.

The British Broadcasting Company is searching London to discover the best site for a new station which will be one of the most powerful in the world. The company is considering establishing a station in London similar to the one built recently, but working on a different wave length for specialities less than 2-10 and the new high-powered station. The plan involves the erection of duplicate transmitting apparatus. The first set is expected to be ready by the end of the year and the second will go up as soon as possible financially.

R. M. Ford, London wireless amateur, has refused to take out a license for his receiving set, which has raised an important issue affecting every listener in Great Britain. Mr. Ford claims that the postal authorities have no legal right to stand on and says there is no law compelling a license for receiving sets. The Postmaster-General has dodged the issue, waiting for his successor to take office. The government fee is ten shillings or about $2.50.

An English scientist has invented a microphone so sensitive it can receive the conversation of insects, bees, wasps, locusts, grasshoppers and beetles. The device has a system of communicating with each other through a wave message sent by infinitesimal instruments in the mouth and received through antennae like aerials. The Englishman's apparatus picks up tiny calls and magnifies them so listeners are able to hear.

William Dubilier, noted inventor of condensers, is now investigating the secret of transmission. The Germans claim to have a device for sending commercial news by wireless without fear of being tapped by unauthorized listeners. The machine is said to be simple and effective, but obtains secrecy because of countless transmitting combinations alterable at will, the result being that they are meaningless, except to an authorized listener.

The British Broadcasting Company has instituted a practice of remembering briefly all the anniversaries of famous men and great events for the purpose of promoting patriotism and interest in national figures and keeping memories green.

Australia plans a vast State development of radio, according to advices received here. Two big five-kilowatt stations are going up in each State with a range of 2500 meters.

VIENNA, Nov. 2.—Stations were recently opened at Belgrade and Beirut under the control of the French Orient Company to link Central Europe with Asia Minor for the first time in history. It is possible now to send private radio-grams from Germany to Argentina.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 2.—Danish radio fans numbering 50,000, who have sent a plea to the government to do something to support radio in Denmark, have received a positive reply to the effect that the present government has no intention of taking any action. The Danish amateur radio community organized strongly enough to bring influence to bear on the government's view, but now are planning a bloc with the purpose of forcing the officials to change their attitude. Denmark is one of the most backward countries in the world, since the state telegraph has the wireless completely tied up.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 2.—A gift of land valued at $150,000 was received by Purdue University from the estate of Mrs. Ophelia Fowler Duhme, the purpose of the legacy being to erect a women's dormitory at the university. For a year and a half the estate has been in litigation. —d— was a compromise of the suit to break Mrs. Duhme's will that Mrs. Harriet Small of Cincinnati, chief beneficiary, made the donation by Purdue. Another gift of $25,000 goes to the town of Fowler, Benton county, Indiana, for a community building.

Mrs. Duhme was the wife of a Cincinnati jeweler and daughter of Moses Fowler, founder of the town of Fowler. She left an estate valued at $1,500,000, principally in rich Indiana land.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 2.—With his hands held together and tears streaming down his face as he looked at the picture of his wife who died in April, Benjamin Leonard Busch, 52 years of age, last night was heard praying for the Lord to take him so he could be with her.

This morning his lifeless body was found in bed with a bullet wound through the head. Coroner Roy L. Carter gave a verdict of suicide.

Every Sunday Busch had gone to the grave of his wife in Cave Hill Cemetery. Each night he shed tears and prayed for her. He did not let his own ill-health interfere with his weekly pilgrimage to her grave.

FARMHOUSE SQUATTERS STILL RUM

Real Estate Agent Finds Property Occupied When He Takes Out Prospect

DENVER, Nov. 2.—When a Denver real estate agent described a little farm he had for sale a half mile west of Aurora he painted a glowing picture of it and his client finally consented to go out and see it. Arriving at the house, the real estate man was surprised to see it occupied. The prospective customer, poking around, sniffed hooch and became enthusiastic over the place. But the real estate agent made. With his return to Denver, after the uninvited tenants had refused to let him in, the agent communicated with Carl Jackson of the Federal prohibition forces. Jackson sent a prohibition agent out with the real estate man and they forced an entrance, to find a small still in the house.

Two men, who gave the names of W. C. and J. N. Johnson, were arrested. W. G. Johnson pleaded guilty to violation of the prohibition law when he was arranged before United States Commissioner Foot. Both were held for trial by the commissioner.

Jeweler, Wife, Son Found Shot in Burning Home

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

SALINA (Kan.), Nov. 2.—Firemen snuffing out flames here yesterday discovered the bodies of Ota E. Morgan, a jeweler; Mrs. Morgan and their son, Loren, 19 years of age. They had been shot several times and the bodies of Mrs. Morgan and her son were badly charred by fire in the building where they lay.

All the rooms were tightly closed and it is believed the fire had smoldered since 2 o'clock this morning, when shots were heard by neighbors, who had believed they were caused by Halloween pranks.

The shots set fire to the building. The body of Morgan, which was found in the room, was shot five times. Several of the shots were also in the walls of the room, showing the bullets had gone wild. A pistol was found lying near the body of Loren.

It was learned that Morgan and his wife had quarreled frequently.

WHAT IS A 'REGISTERING' PIANO?

IT'S the question KHJ "listeners-in" have been asking. They have heard piano solos as well as most difficult accompaniments to artists played on it and they are curious to know.

While the Gulbrandsen "Registering" piano is played with a roll, it registers, on each note, the individual touch of the person playing it.

Such artistic and satisfactory results are obtained only because it is a "Registering" piano, in fact. Any make of roll, including all reproducing rolls, can be played on the Gulbrandsen "Registering" piano.

Any song can be transposed to suit any voice, and it can be played either as a piano solo or as an accompaniment only.

DENVER, Nov. 2.—Racing as a passenger in the cab of a locomotive on the Moffat Railroad to reach the District Court in time to answer a citation for contempt of court, H. E. Frasher met with hard luck when the engine broke down and was held up at Tolland for repairs.

He sent a wire to the court from Tolland that he was on his way. At 11:30 Frasher dashed breathlessly into court to find that the judge had adjourned until 2 o'clock. Frasher presented his excuse to the clerk of the court and was excused until 2 o'clock.

Do You Want More Taxes?

The Water and Power Act would increase the debt of the taxpayers of California by Five Hundred Million Dollars ($500,000,000) with a consequent heavy increase in taxation.

Do You Want a Political Machine?

The Board of five men would not be subject to the Civil Service. It could hire whom it wanted, as many as it wanted, and pay any salaries it saw fit.

How About Necessities?

We need the credit of the State, which is limited, for schools, roads, public institutions and many other necessary things. To use that credit to the extent of Five Hundred Million Dollars ($500,000,000) for an experiment is not necessary, not practical and not wise. VOTE "NO" on No. 16.

The Water and Power Act is in no way connected with the development of the Colorado River, which is a United States Government project, and in which Southern California is the only part of the State interested.

175 Organizations Oppose Water and Power Act

Commercial and civic organizations, mutual water companies and associations, business men's clubs and chambers of commerce, farm bureaus and boards of trade, real estate associations and improvement clubs, up and down the state, to the number of 175, have passed vigorous resolutions denouncing the Water and Power Act—Five Hundred Million Dollar Bond Issue. Among these are the following. There is not sufficient space to print the entire list.

Citizens Join In Strong Protest, Urge Economy

Recognizing the urgent need of some central association of thinking people to study the tax situation in an impartial fashion, the Taxpayers' Protective Association of Southern California has been organized.

To prevent waste of public funds, to encourage economy in administration and to oppose hasty and ill-considered legislation involving heavy expenditure of the people's money, are the primary purposes of this association.

In particular, it regards as inimical to sound public policy, and vigorously opposes the initiative measure known as the Five Hundred Million Dollar Water and Power Bond issue, which will appear on the ballot as Water and Power Initiative Measure—No. 16.

The officers of the Association are: S. C. Graham, president; E. D. Lyman, vice president; J. J. Muma, vice president; J. A. H. Kerr, treasurer; M. A. Nickerson, secretary, and the Executive Committee is composed of John G. Mott, Frank S. Hutton, S. D. Sale, Cora Deal Lewis, John G. Bullock, Harold L. Arnold, Geo. L. Eastman, Wm. M. ## CHINESE LOSING MEXICAN FAVOR

Widespread Hostility Against Orientals Noted

Lack of Strong Government Aids Persecution

Congress Partial to Japanese; May Discriminate

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

MONTEREY (Mex.) Nov. 3.—

In all of the communities and rural districts of Mexico where the commercial competition of Chinese is being felt by native business interests the campaign for driving these orientals from the country is finding favor and support, according to information received here. What degree this anti-Chinese campaign may reach, it is difficult to say, as there is no way of determining.

There long has existed in Mexico a natural animosity toward the Chinese. This feeling of antipathy has made itself felt from time to time for many years. It reached its climax during the revolution of the late Francisco I. Madero, Jr., when a horde of Mexicans under the leadership of Francisco Villa captured Torreon and massacred in cold blood more than 200 inoffensive Chinese non-combatants. For that unprompted slaughter of her nationals the Chinese government demanded a large indemnity from the Mexican government. The demand was recognized and the amount paid over for the benefit of descendants of the victims of the massacre.

CHINA NOW IMPOTENT

It is pointed out, however, that at this time China is lacking in a central government and that no effective protest can be made by that nation against the ill-treatment of her subjects in Mexico. As the situation is viewed here, the Mexican government is lax in lending protection to the Chinese, who are being threatened with forced expulsion, or at the least with serious losses of business and damage to whatever property they may have accumulated in this country. That the anti-Chinese movement is receiving the tacit support of high Mexican authorities is shown by the reports from Mexico City that the Congress will probably be called upon to enact a law prohibiting further immigration of people of that oriental race. Current Chinese in Mexico view the situation with alarm, but they declare that they are powerless to assert their rights. They point out that to exclude the Chinese and to welcome the Japanese as immigrants and colonists, as is now proposed, would be an act of rank injustice and partiality.

In the absence of any government census it is not known how many Chinese there may be in Mexico. Some persons who have traveled in all parts of this country express the belief that there are not less than 100,000 of them here. They are found in more or less numbers in every section of Mexico. They are especially numerous in the Pacific Coast States of Sonora and Sinaloa. The present agitation against the Chinese had its inception in Sonora about three years ago and it was at the time said to be due to the encroachment of Chinese business interests upon the trade of Mexican store-keepers. Since then drastic laws providing for the segregation of these orientals from Mexican residential sections of cities and towns have been passed. Hundreds of Chinese were also herded together and made to leave those two States.

"TIMES" ELECTION SERVICE

In accordance with its custom, The Times will maintain an up-to-the-minute election news service by stereopticon, radio, telephone and extra editions tomorrow evening. Returns will be flashed on a screen at First and Broadway as rapidly as received and will be given by telephone to all who call. The trend of the election in all parts of the country, as gathered on The Times' own wires, will be broadcast from KHL, The Times radio station.

CELESTIALS BOYCOTTED

Boycotts against Chinese merchants have been instituted in many towns and cities. The latest of this kind of effort to injure the business of the Chinese is reported from Torreon, San Pedro and other towns in the rich Laguna agricultural district of the States of Coahuila and Chihuahua, where the population of the orientals is large. The charge is made by some of the more influential Chinese business men of Mexico that much of the agitation and activities that are being directed against them had their origin with Japanese merchants of the West Coast region. There is said to be no evidence of the truth of this charge, however, and so far as known here no Japanese "has been openly identified with the Chinese expulsion movement."

The first immigration of Chinese to Mexico took place early in this country's history, soon after the coming of Hernandez Cortes, according to historical authorities. In fact, some ethnologists declare that there is strong archaeological evidence that the race of people who inhabited Southern Mexico in prehistoric times sprang from Chinese. Many ancient relics and writings have been brought to light from time to time substantiating this assertion, it is said. Outside of the larger cities, most of the restaurants and small shops of the country are run by Chinese. They are shrewd traders and many of them have accumulated comfortable fortunes.

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

Por el Profesor R. Guerrero

Casi al final de la Plática 283 dice: "Impón a tu hijo del contenido de esa carta", debiendo decir: "Impón a tu hijo del contenido de esa carta".

En el párrafo segundo del artículo de Zárraga que estamos comentando, después de insistir el escritor sobre lo necesario que es el reclamo, y de aludir a la muchedumbre de bellezas naturales y crecidas que España posee y que podría anunciar de mil maneras, termina diciendo: "Pero ¿qué reclamo se le hace a España en el extranjero? Cuando la de nuestras panderetas. El arte de la propaganda no lo sabemos ejercer."

Ya en otra ocasión he dicho que es general, entre los que hablan y escriben en español, designar los países extranjeros con el adjetivo sustantivo "el extranjero", y no veo ningún inconveniente para que se adopte esta expresión, a pesar de que aún no le haya dado entrada nuestro diccionario académico. Este no pospone más uso sustantivo al adjetivo "extranjero" que cuando denota la persona que no se del país donde se la aplica tal apodo.

Muy a menudo se sustituye también en la conversación ordinaria los adjetivos "interior" y "exterior", diciendo, por ejemplo: "el interior de este edificio no corresponde con el exterior", donde lo correcto es decir: "el interior de este edificio no corresponde con el exterior", pues cuando los adjetivos se refieren a las cosas, como el edificio abstracto y general, se construyen con el artículo neutro "lo".

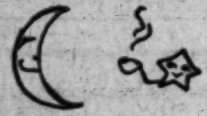

Interesadoramente, el artículo de la Academia, no se sustituye sino cuando designa el compartimiento de un medio en los coches que tienen tren. "Me toco un asiento en el interior", y cuando, en plural, denota las entrañas. "Exterior", según la misma autoridad, es sustantivo sólo para denotar la traza, aspecto o porte de una persona: "No es muy recomendable el exterior de ese individuo".

En los demás casos hay que dar a estas dos voces la construcción propia de los adjetivos sustantivos con significación general, y decir: "Me gusta lo interior de esta casa", como se dice, "lo bello de esta casa es su situación"; "conceder un préstamo en lo exterior", como se dice, "conceda usted siempre lo bueno y deje lo malo", etc.

Era hablar con cabal propiedad digamos, pues: "Este tubo es liso en lo interior y rugoso en lo exterior". Franklin Knight Lane fue Ministro de lo Interior (no "del Interior") del Presidente Wilson.

"Me encanta viajar por lo interior de México", etc.

Al final del segundo párrafo de su artículo dice Zárraga que "la 'reclamo' que se hace a España en el extranjero es, cuando más, la de sus panderetas". La pandereta es un instrumento musical de percusión más pequeño que el pandero ordinario (timbre, tamborina) y construido por el mismo estilo. Es instrumento indispensable en muchos, bailes rítmicos españoles, y a veces se le construye con fines puramente decorativos, para ser colgado en los muros de las habitaciones. En tal caso, se pintan comúnmente en el parche de las panderetas cuadros de género, que representan toreros, majas, bailes populares, episodios de corridas de toros, etc. Del aro se las cuelgan, para hacerlas aun

The LAW'S IRON HAND

THE LAW gives to every man the privilege of prescribing how his Estate shall be employed, after his death.

If this privilege is not exercised, then the Estate is divided and disposed of "according to Law". Very often, the cold prescription of the statute is very far from what the owner would have preferred. Very often the Estate is handled by those whom the decedent would not have trusted to that extent—in his lifetime.

CHRISTIAN MAN DEMANDED AS AMERICAN PRESIDENT

Rev. Gordon Palmer Says Leader With Heart-Understanding of Christ is Nation's Need

Essential to the salvation of our nation is the election of a President who has "a heart-understanding as well as a head-knowledge of the Person and ethics of Christ," according to the opinion voiced by Rev. Gordon Palmer, pastor of the South Park Baptist Church, in a sermon yesterday to the KJH audience from The Times broadcasting station. Preaching on "The Question of the Centuries," Mr. Palmer spoke in part as follows:

"Among all the statesmen, philosophers, military geniuses, literary masters, silver-tongued orators and great world leaders there has not been found a perfect man and he is Jesus the Christ. He was and is today the most criticized and widely discussed personality in the world. The question, 'What shall I do with Jesus?' raised by the Roman Governor in the judgment hall in Jerusalem, has changed the destinies of men and nations. It is still the vital, disturbing question of the twentieth century. Jesus Christ demands our thought, consideration, and action. If I can provoke you to a thoughtful consideration of Jesus Christ you will give a direct answer to the Procurator's query."

CHRIST IS UNIQUE
"Like most great men, Christ was of humble birth, but even the visitors to that obscure village brought a prophecy that he should be great, the universal servant and of world influence. His character and life are the most astounding of all history. He is a different life. He is a new spirit. A new power has overwhelmed His great soul. Jesus Christ himself is the greatest miracle of the ages. He is too great to be labeled. He is unique. He differs from the world's great men in that he owned no real estate and had no bank account. He built no material monuments and coveted no official position. He kept no diary and left no autobiography. He served but was not received by those whom he served. He loved but was despised by those he loved. Christ was the most misunderstood man of His day and even today remains 'The Great Misunderstood' man from his hand. Not a single sentence, written by his hand, is preserved for us in his original writing. All of the recorded words that Jesus spoke can be read in three hours and a half. In a word, Jesus Christ has left less, so far as material records concerning himself are concerned, than any other of the world's leaders or heroes. Nevertheless, He is better known than any of the kings or of the world's great men. Yes, He is better known than George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, W. E. Gladstone or Theodore Roosevelt."

"The question of the centuries is 'What shall we do with Jesus, the Christ?' Consider Him with the heathen gods with Baal and Ashteroth, Dagon and Mithra, Chemosh and Buddha, Amen and Thor, and Christ shines as the 'Way, the truth and the light.' Without Jesus Christ we might have another civilization like Greece. There might be another Rome but there could never be another England and America. Whatever there is high, noble and good in our civilization can be traced to the influence of the life teachings and spirit of Jesus Christ."

"How have the nations answered this question of the centuries? If only the nations that have styled themselves Christians had in reality accepted the Christ we should not at this time be suffering from the horrors of war and destruction. No country has contributed more to the scientific knowledge of Christ's life and message than Germany. But had Germany accepted unreservedly the teachings of the Christ and the Christ Himself, she would never have committed the atrocities of Aeschylus and Louvain. She would not have decorated her generals for sinking neutral vessels and sending hundreds of noncombatants to the bottom of the sea."

"Let us should appear Pharisee, easily able to detect the faults of others while being blind to our own, let it be said, if we here in America really knew Jesus Christ and had enthroned Him in His rightful place we would see much in the spirit and temper of our country which would make us humble ourselves before God. It is absolutely necessary that we know the standing as well as a head knowledge of the person and ethics of Christ. The only way out of national and international anarchy and political perplexity is by the way of the Cross, the Sermon on the Mount and the enthronement of love. Permanent peace between nation and nation, and between class and class, will never come until we have accepted the 'mud-throwing' or by willful misrepresentation. Peace and good will come by the way of the will of God. God gives us men for our leaders who can see the needs of humanity through the eyes of the Man of Galilee. Jesus Christ demands a place in the affairs of the nation. Rule Him out, and a worse picture than broken, disrupted chaotic Russia will be painted upon the canvas of American history."

SAVING OF WOMEN
"Of all those who should answer the question of the centuries, a surrendered life, it is woman. Jesus Christ has done more for woman than all others combined. Where Christ has not yet been proclaimed woman is still in slavery. She is the slave to the brute in her husband, as well as the beast in her employer. Girls in heathen lands are of less consideration than cattle. Even in Christian America there are men who treat their wives with less consideration than they do their dogs. Not all the heathen in Africa or China, wherever Christ enters He liberates woman. He places her upon an equality with man. Christ raises woman to her rightful place. He thought her in His life. He remembered her in His death."

"What shall we do without Him? What shall we do when the hot winds of adversity blast the soul? What shall we do when the waves of trouble roll higher and higher and the bark of life is about to sink? What shall we do when the storms of failure break and the lightning of misfortune strike? What shall we do when the thunder has evoked sympathy, patience and courage, virtues which are indispensable to nobility of character. Our real problem is to account for sin, the conscious failure to live to our ideals, the conscious doing of what we know to be wrong. Regardless of whether it is historical or not, the Garden of Eden story symbolically describes a real human experience. Adam, the primitive man, is portrayed as living to our ideal, the spiritual ideal, and he fails to live up to his highest ideal. In scientific language, the higher part of his brain, the cortex, had an idea, which the basal ganglia, or emotional part of the brain, was unwilling to carry out. In other words, he was not an automaton, or a machine, but a living soul, with the power of choice; and the possession of this power to choose, within certain limits, between right and wrong, is necessary if our actions are to have any moral quality. In giving man this power of choice, God made it possible for man to sin, but there was no other possible way in which man could be morally responsible being unless he had this power of choice."

MORE REVERENCE IS DECLARED NEEDED
"Reverence" was the subject of a sermon preached yesterday by Rev. E. D. Gaylord, at the Church of the Messiah. Mr. Gaylord said in part: "To accuse our age of irreverence is to indict a whole people, which Burke said you could not rightly do. But who could say that we are by nature or training irreverent people? How many lack one of the three dimensions—they have no look upward. Their talk is witty, but their wit is often at the expense of sacred things. How many of our jokes turn on references to things which ought to be held sacred—some scripture passage, some verse of a hymn. What of that attitude of mind which is hippopotamus and bold? Too many sit on the seat of the scorners, and their mood is that of the Philistine. It is more than a mood; it is a fault that costs us dearly in the loss of great values. Nature does not disclose her secrets to the ignorant soul. World builders are not iconoclasts, dealing ruthlessly with the values of the past, but builders upon the best of the past. Reverence for the personality of another is the key to all ethics."

POINTS FOLLY OF RACE PREJUDICE
Rabbi E. F. Marglin preached at the Temple Beth El last night on "You Gentiles." He said in part: "I do not believe that, fundamentally, Jews differ from Gentiles or even that one nation or race of Gentiles differs from another. I believe there are some different conceptions of living between different peoples living under different conditions and in different environments, but the great American experiment has absolutely convinced me that these differences are, for the most part, external, secondary, superficial and melt away under a common association where liberty is granted. To hold that they do not is to revert to the philosophy of the nationalist and to discourage all attempts to fuse. I hold that Jews, due to persecutions and compulsion to live an abnormal existence, have developed certain tendencies, many of them fine, and beautiful, which the great American experiment has shown to be common to all. But the second and third generation, when given a chance, mingle with their fellow-citizens over man and nations. The records of this great fraternity explain his growth and influence. Odd Fellowship is the largest fraternal organization in existence. Measured by the number of members, charity dispensed, sick benefits paid and widows and orphans cared for, it stands in a class by itself. Above and beyond all this can be set down in figures or transferred to a ledger the mission of Odd Fellowship to lift high a light over the path of human progress. The benefits of this organization are not confined to the circle of its own membership. Dedicated to the dissemination of truth, and actuated by love its friendship is essentially unselfish. When liberty or innocence or justice is left half dead, wounded and bleeding by the roadside, this institution is ready to sacrifice and succor. In these days of stress and storm when mighty monarchies have fallen before the fury of armies, we are armies of iconoclasts are being recruited in every nation, when men aspiring to high positions in our own land, assail our fundamental institutions, brave men and women are called to a holy crusade in the defense of law and the Constitution. Let it be borne in mind that the right man, right place and right time are being created for the wide-eyed revolutionist to come in and bring about a new order of things. Let it be borne in mind that the 'martial' enforcement of the law is always stood ready and an unflinching respect for the Constitution and the free institutions that derive their life from it."

ODD FELLOWS GIVEN PRAISE BY DR. BROWN
The annual sermon to members of the Odd Fellows Lodge, No. 1, preached last night by Dr. Bruce Brown at the South Park Christian Church. Dr. Brown said in part: "Every institution withstanding the check of time must possess great and enduring principles. Every organization must stand or fall by the influence that it exerts over man and nations. The records of this great fraternity explain his growth and influence. Odd Fellowship is the largest fraternal organization in existence. Measured by the number of members, charity dispensed, sick benefits paid and widows and orphans cared for, it stands in a class by itself. Above and beyond all this can be set down in figures or transferred to a ledger the mission of Odd Fellowship to lift high a light over the path of human progress. The benefits of this organization are not confined to the circle of its own membership. Dedicated to the dissemination of truth, and actuated by love its friendship is essentially unselfish. When liberty or innocence or justice is left half dead, wounded and bleeding by the roadside, this institution is ready to sacrifice and succor. Let it be borne in mind that the 'martial' enforcement of the law is always stood ready and an unflinching respect for the Constitution and the free institutions that derive their life from it."

SEEKS BETTER DAY FOR HUMAN RACE
E. D. Sexton spoke at the Trinity Auditorium yesterday at the meeting conducted under the auspices of the International Bible Students' Association. An excerpt from the sermon follows: "Webster defines the word civilization to be 'the state of being civilized.' How would this definition apply to the world a few years ago when the nations were at each other's throats? Single single-handed—they are not organized for wholesale killing, they know nothing of poison gas, bombs, airplanes, submarines and machine guns. In the world conflict the nations acted more like demons than like civilized people. At the end of the war all nations have been over-run with lawlessness and crime. God's word says, 'The new civilization will be a gradual process of development for each individual, yielding obedience to the government of each.' King until absolute perfection is attained in mind and body."

SOLUTION OF COSMIC PROBLEM IS SOUGHT
Dr. H. C. Culbertson, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational Church, preached yesterday on "The Origin of Evil." He said in part: "The most perplexing question in religious thought is how to account for the existence of evil in this world, which we believe was created by a loving and righteous God. Some have answered that there is no real evil, that what we call evil is only 'growing pains,' while the spiritual and conscious elements in the universe are ever coming the material, or that evil and good are only a contrast, as the shadows on hills and plains enable us better to appreciate the sunlight. Others have realized more truly the terrible facts of sin and suffering and have sometimes been ready to give up the belief that God is omnipotent, pre-destining to believe, rather, that there are two mighty ones, God and the Devil, in tremendous conflict, until finally, as they hope, God will subdue the Devil and right will reign."

IN SEEKING THE ANSWER TO OUR question we must discriminate clearly between suffering and sin. Pain is not in itself an evil. Biologically, pain helps to preserve the race because it deters us from actions which would mean destruction. The pain of disease stimulates scientific research and the effort to secure more wholesome and sanitary conditions of life. Spiritually, the existence of pain has evoked sympathy, patience and courage, virtues which are indispensable to nobility of character. Our real problem is to account for sin, the conscious failure to live to our ideals, the conscious doing of what we know to be wrong. Regardless of whether it is historical or not, the Garden of Eden story symbolically describes a real human experience. Adam, the primitive man, is portrayed as living to our ideal, the spiritual ideal, and he fails to live up to his highest ideal. In scientific language, the higher part of his brain, the cortex, had an idea, which the basal ganglia, or emotional part of the brain, was unwilling to carry out. In other words, he was not an automaton, or a machine, but a living soul, with the power of choice; and the possession of this power to choose, within certain limits, between right and wrong, is necessary if our actions are to have any moral quality. In giving man this power of choice, God made it possible for man to sin, but there was no other possible way in which man could be morally responsible being unless he had this power of choice."

IS SETT WANTS BIBLE IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS
In his sermon yesterday morning, Rev. I. W. Isett, pastor of Amanda Chapel, Carthage Center, advocated the use of the Bible in the public schools, basing his remarks upon Psalm 119:106. "Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path." In part Mr. Isett said: "Every one has a consciousness of God. Among all people He is a superior being with infinite power. Among Jews and Christians He is also a God of love and compassion. The heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament sheweth his handiwork; nevertheless He has given us a clearer revelation of Himself in the book we call the Bible. 'While our country was founded by men and women who sought freedom to worship God according to the dictates of their conscience, we have built up a system of education which forbids the study of the Bible in the schools as a text-book, which the school drew out of the church. The present day school is much like the present day pupil—under the impression that it is wiser than its parent. There is a movement back to the understanding of our fathers, the study of the Bible as a valuable thing for society. 'The home has very largely placed the education of the child in the hands of the school. If the education in the Bible is valuable in the home it is valuable in the school. 'The Catholic church has met this problem by establishing schools of its own, but the non-Catholic school does not meet the requirements of a democracy. Some solution must be found whereby the youth of America will be enabled to study about God and our relation to Him, and His revelation to us of Himself and His laws which will, at the same time, be consistent with differing theological beliefs. "This can be done when a few fundamental principles are recognized. In the first place, a knowledge of the Bible is a valuable part of education. Secondly, those parts of the Bible which do not deal with doctrinal questions, but with human relationships, are acceptable to all. Third, all education is selective in the public schools, and not a Kautskian, general selective Bible study cannot be objectionable. Fourth, the Bible in without equal as a text book in sociology, ethics, and in certain fields, in geography and history."

SAYS JESUS DIFFERS FROM THEOLOGICALS
Rev. E. F. Daugherty, pastor of the First Christian Church, preached yesterday on "A Little Child Shall Lead Them." He said in part: "In the language of pulsing present life which Jesus used when with men in the flesh, He said on one occasion, 'Beware of being scornful of one single little child, for I tell you that in heaven their angels have continual access to my Father in heaven.' The romance of divinity taking form in the occupant of a manger cradle, the picture of it, surpasses all other pictures and romances with which the human mind and heart have dealt. It was the amazing, near incredible thing of divinity accepting finite limitation in that cradle. Because of the Bethlehem Babe there is no throne before which human hearts so universal bow as in the manger. The thought of doctrine makers affixed upon the cradle occupant, the stigma of original sin; their provision for its removal came in the added dogma of baptismal regeneration. That has been the theological attitude toward the Babe. The historic Christian attitude is that of the founder of the Christian faith who, before attaining attitude toward childhood said, 'Suffer the children to come unto me and forbid them not for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven.'"

JAPANESE ANARCHIST SAYS WRONGS OF PEOPLE HIS INCITEMENT
(BY CARL—REUTERS DISPATCH)
TOKYO, Nov. 2.—Further proof of there being a revolutionary spirit in Japan became evident at the trial of Daisuke Namba for the attempted murder of the Prince Regent last December. A trial was conducted behind barred doors, and only certain high officials, representatives of the army and navy, selected educationists and ministers of religion and a deputation of members of the bar were admitted. Namba, asked to make a statement of the reason for his crime, declared that he was tired of the manner in which the liberties of the people were restricted, and that while millions were ill-clothed and badly housed, those in authority were enjoying themselves and wasting substance of the land. He declared that the aristocracy was crushing down the common people, and demanded reform of the privileged classes, freedom of speech, limitation of encroachments on the individual rights of people by those in authority, and nationalization of the land. On being asked how he expected that the assassination of the Prince Regent would bring about these changes, he replied that he thought he acted too hastily, but that his aim was to focus public attention in a manner unheard of before, that full and proper attention be paid to what he called the acute physical and mental privations and sufferings of the people.

TAX MOTOR BUSSES

as you do Railroads and all other Public Utilities

The motor carriers last year served 786 communities in California that have no other common means of transportation. They carried more than 29,000,000 passengers.

This amendment makes no change in the tax system that has been in operation in California for fourteen years, other than to include the motor carriers with the other public utilities—where they belong.

VOTE YES ON AMENDMENT NO. 7

The measure provides for the appointment of an Athletic Commission to regulate boxing and wrestling contests in California.

In spite of statements to the contrary by reformers and agitators, the proposed measure will eliminate all the undesirable elements from the sport. This is one of the principal features of the bill.

The proposed bill will give adequate and satisfactory assistance in regaining health, and care in incurable cases, to veterans of the World War.

It will give California sport lovers an equal opportunity with those of the East and Middle West to see the highest class men in the boxing game perform.

It does not legalize "prizefighting."

It does not propose any interference with the conduct of the boxing contests as are now conducted. It does, however, throw additional safeguards around the sport as now operated.

It affords every opportunity for the development and exhibition of amateur boxing and wrestling.

The Commission is self-sustaining immediately by reason of the diversion of five per cent of the gross receipts of all exhibitions into the funds of the Commission. Members of the Commission serve without pay.

Amendment No. 7 gives full and complete protection to the sport-loving public of the state.

They're "Stopping the Show"

SINCE opening-hour Saturday, spaces 44-A, Tent No. 4, at the Automobile Show, have been magnet-points for visitors.

In other words—those of an enthusiastic bystander—"Studebakers are stopping the Show!"

First, there are the Duplex Phaetons. You will see these and wonder why someone hasn't conceived the idea before. One moment, an open car—then, with a single motion of one's arm on either side, a perfect sedan.

The change takes less than 30 seconds.

This marks the passing of "the old buggy top"—an unchanged tradition in the motor car world since automobiles were first built with whip-sockets in the dashboards.

Then, there are the closed Studebakers—a royal line of them. These models are new phases of motor luxury—with interiors that one cannot look upon without aching to occupy.

There isn't a model in the line that doesn't justify the unstinted praise of the well known K.C.B. who writes:

"... I thought you had lost a customer, because my present Studebaker will apparently last forever. But, in the new car, you have brought to a land of beautiful things, something that truly belongs. It doesn't seem possible to produce a better automobile regardless of price. Certainly I have never seen one more beautiful. I thank you."

Finally, you can possess one of the new Studebakers for as little as $1385, delivered here. Or, if you prefer, you can pay $3250 for one of the Big-Six seven-passenger Berlins—the super-cars of their line.

In either case, your motor car investment will be the kind that Los Angeles' shrewdest business men make year after year. Men who consider tomorrow's resale value as well as today's service yield.
